Entered as second-class matter September 30, 1904, at the Postoffice at Campbell, California, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879

Flannery Disqualified.

It has been definitely settled that Daniel Flannery did not resign as Deputy Internal Revenue Collector before his election as the following letter shows:

"Treasury Department, Office of the Secretary, Washington, D. C., Nov. 12, 1906.

"Mr. T. W. Treanor, San Jose, Cal.

"Sir: In reply to your telegram of the 11th inst., I have to advise you, by direction of the Secretary, that the records of this office show Mr. D. J. Flannery still to be on duty as a deputy collector in the First Internal Revenue District of California.

"Respectfully,

"CHARLES LYMAN,

"Chief Division of Appointments."

A resignation takes effect when it is accepted at Washington. To make sure of this Mr. Treanor secured the correspondence that took place between the Treasury Department and an employee in this Internal Revenue District who had recently resigned, showing the method necessary to resign. The Post has those letters, but we are not at liberty to divulge the name of the employee, for obvious reasons. It appears that this employee first tendered his resignation "To the Honorable, the Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C." This was mailed to his superior, John C. Lynch, Collector of Internal Revenue at San Francisco with the instructions that it be forwarded to the Department which was done and in due course of time this employee received a letter from the Department accepting his resignation, "in accordance with the recommendation of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue." This letter came in care of Collector Lynch who in a letter written by himself said: "Enclosed I send you Acting Secretary C. H. Keep's acceptance of your resignation, dated—to take effect—."

It is clear from this that Flannery did not tender his resignation to the Department, though he may have given Lynch a resignation, to be destroyed in case of his defeat in the election.

T. W. Treanor announces that he will at once file a contest against Dan Flannery for the office of County Recorder. His contest will probably be along the lines of the Campbell-Free contest over the District Attorneyship, inasmuch as Flannery was holding a Federal office when he was elected to the office of County Recorder.

Treanor filed a suit some time ago against Flannery, but did not file a contest, and Judge Hyland said that before he would issue an injunction restraining the county court from giving Flannery a certificate of election Treanor would have to file a contest. Treanor was allowed two days in which to file said contest.

The two days elapsed, and a certificate of election was issued to Flannery. This, however, does not prevent Treanor from filing a contest.

Want More Money for Schools.

The Santa Clara County Teachers' Association held their quarterly meeting in Judge Welch's courtroom, Department No. 1, at the County Court House Saturday.

A general discussion, covering educational topics in general, was indulged in by the teachers present.

Dr. Henry Suzzalo of Stanford University, delivered the principal address.

The most important matter brought before the teachers, was in the form of four resolutions, one of which is to be presented at the next meeting of the State Legislature; the second to the County Superintendent of Schools, T. D. Bateman; the third, to the County Board of Supervisors, and the fourth to the City Council.

The resolutions to the State Legislature asks that a law be passed fixing the minimum allowance for each census child at $9, instead of $7, as at present. Declaring that every county in the State would be benefited by this increased school fund, enabling school boards to pay higher salaries, and furnish better school equipment, etc.

The resolution to Superintendent Bateman, directs the County Superintendent of Schools to ask the County Board of Supervisors for an allowance of $9 per census child for school purposes.

The third resolution is a request that the Supervisors grant the request of the County Superintendent of Schools and the resolutions to the City Council requests that body to allow the city 25 per cent of the taxes for schools instead of 20 1-2 per cent as proposed.

It is claimed by the teachers that Santa Clara County, one of the richest counties in this State, pays the lowest salaries to its teachers, with the result that the best teachers seek employment elsewhere.

The resolutions were prepared and presented by City Superintendent of Schools, Alex. Sheriffs.

S. A. Moulton's Brother Hurt.

Colonel L. F. Moulton, of Colusa, a brother of S. A. Moulton, of Campbell, is lying at the point of death in that city as the result of injuries sustained in an accident there late Thursday evening. Mr. Moulton was thrown from his buggy and received injuries to his spine that is feared will terminate fatally. Mr. Moulton is one of the best known men in Northern California and his many friends hope that he will recover from his most unfortunate accident.

He had started from his ranch for a short drive. The horse he drove came home minus a buggy, and a search was at once instituted for the occupant. About four miles from his home he was found lying on his back in the road unconscious. He was taken to his home and a physician. After an examination he was found to be also suffering from concussion of the brain, and his recovery is doubtful.

AN INDIVIDUAL OPINION.

A "Times" Correspondent Writes of the President's Attitude.

If there is any one thing that should make the most timid citizen feel secure in the stability of the government of the United States, it is the cool, business-like methods of its Congress in times of popular excitement in any State or Territory. The talk in California over the school question in reference to the admission and segregation of Japanese to our institutions of public education, together with colonizing this and bordering States by men of that race, are instances that may be cited.

Congress may be depended upon to do the right thing at the proper time. Both the Senate and the House of Representatives are for the most part composed of level-headed men working for the good of their constituencies and the welfare of the whole people, keeping ever in mind peaceful relations with foreign powers whereby this Nation is made great and its people contented, happy and prosperous. The attitude of common sense Representatives and Senators, even before session had begun, in frowning down any experiment proposed to be made to inflame the passions of their own people or those of a power with which we are now and desire to continue at peace, was timely, wise and to be commended. There are always in Congress high-minded, honorable and intelligent members in sufficient numbers to squelch sporadic attempts of demagogues and rattle-brained politicians from carrying out incendiary pledges made in ante-election speeches.

However much we may, as individuals, disapprove the expressions of President Roosevelt as given in his message to Congress, let us believe that he has not been correctly informed of conditions existing in San Francisco and that his language exhibits a misapprehension of circumstances. He certainly is not cognizant of the fact that no treaty rights of Japanese subjects have been violated anywhere in California, that no subject of any foreign government has been denied educational privileges equal to our own children in the common schools. The right of the State to compel or permit the segregation of its pupils into grades, classes or into separate rooms or buildings, where the same instruction is furnished is one never before questioned. As we understand it the Japanese do not claim that they are not received in our public schools, but that they are excluded from acquaintanceship and association with white children. When we consider that all, or nearly all Japanese "school boys" are grown men, this contention loses its point. No treaty that was ever made or will be made can regulate our social fabric and compel us to receive into our home circles persons not congenial, or of different habits and customs from our own.

No doubt the President is justly incensed at the threats of demagogues, visionaries and firebrands, as he terms them, to introduce drastic measures into Congress to exclude the Japanese from our shores and retaliate by urging their naturalization. He aptly says, under another heading: "These preachers of mere discontent . . . sometimes masquerade as such reformers. In reality they are the worst enemies of the cause they profess to advocate."

Events in the Orient are moving rapidly. Japan is now having one of those periods of maniacal excitements which has come to many an older nation and plunged it into war. On our side fomenters of strife must be given to understand that the United States will not tolerate the man or measure in Congress that seeks a needless quarrel with a foreign power in order to pay his political debts. If war comes with Japan or any other nation let it not be of our seeking, and let it be remembered that the United States has been the peace-maker among all nations, and the constant desire of its President, its Congress and people is that honorable and lasting peace shall bind the whole world.

"I am not looking for a position," said the young man, "I am simply trying to float some of my mental securities."

"Teddy's" Spelling Rejected.

A determined but useless plea for the use of Roosevelt's "simplified spelling" in the Congressional Record and all other publications issued by the government printing office delayed for four hours the transmission from the House Committee on Appropriations to the floor of the House a bill carrying a total appropriation of nearly $40,000,000 and kept the august Appropriations Committee in a state of alternate amusement and anger.

This controversy was precipitated by Representative Jillette (R., Mass.). He was the only man who opposed the committee plan to insert a clause in the executive and judicial appropriation bill that would result in a nullification of the President's simplified spelling edict. He was the only one to stand up for the President, and he did it manfully.

Mr. Jillette finally allowed the bill to go to the House containing the recommendation clause that hereafter, in the documents authorized by law or ordered by Congress or either branch thereof, the government printing office shall follow the rules of orthography established by Webster or some other generally accepted dictionary of the English language.
